Unhappily, it was on the air, performed several acrobatic feats, and landed on his head. He was rescued and taken out of his trouble, and walked away as if nothing had happened. He didn't receive a single scratch. The car was transformed into a kindling wood.

How the Body Bank

CHANDLER, Mich., May 2.—The mysterious loss of the schooner Neval Eddy, with her entire crew, through supposed foundering in a gale two weeks ago, is explained by a fisherman who has since set on the wrecked hull of the vessel. This fisherman came to town today and reported that when he lifted his net after the storm was over, they were full of corn. This indicates clearly that the schooner struck the reef and was knocked to pieces, instead of foundering.

New Perished Corpses

ANDRUS, Mich., May 2.—The body of Mrs. Patrick Riley, buried five years ago in St. Mary's cemetery, was found yesterday. It is an almost perfect skeleton, and looks as natural as when interred. Mr. Riley believes the body would have been as hard as a rock if it had remained a short time longer. The grave had filled with water and by rising with the tide had produced a sort of rock. Undertakers believe that there are many petrified bodies in St. Mary's cemetery.

After a Colored Actor

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 2.—A warrant is out for the arrest of one Hill, a colored member of the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company, which played here last night. A pretty chambermaid in the hotel, known as Augusta, charged him with an attempt at assault. Before the warrant could be served, Hill had disappeared. A party, headed by the constable, invaded the green room during the play last night, it having been rumored that he had reappeared and would play as usual, but he could not be found.

Hung Up the Mayor

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 2.—At a heated meeting of the council tonight Mayor Thompson's nomination was hung up in a committee. This is the first time that this nomination has been taken since the amended charter went into effect four years ago, making the mayor responsible for the police of the city. On motion of Alderman Manley the legality of the recent ordinance granting a franchise to the Ann Arbor Fuel gas company will be investigated.

Johnson Placed Guilty

PORT HURON, Mich., May 2.—Joseph Chudley, alias Hall, Matthew Johnson and Nick Orth, the three young men arrested for the murder of Charles McKenna last Friday night, were arraigned before Police Justice Robeson today. Johnson pleaded guilty and then turned state's evidence, relating his version of the affair. He claimed that Chudley was the instigator of the robbery and laid out the plans for the work.

You're a Liar

OWASCO, Mich., May 2.—The most exciting council meeting ever held in this city occurred last night. Alderman Parker was making a speech and the Alderman Lamfrom interrupted with "You're a liar." As soon as the meeting was over Parker slapped Lamfrom in the face and threatened to thrash him if he ever called him a liar again. This morning Lamfrom caused the arrest of Parker, and the latter paid $5 and costs.

Another Mine Closed

NGAHESS, Mich., May 2.—The Jackson mine, near this city, closed down two shafts yesterday. The action was due to the exhaustion of the mine and the unsatisfactory condition of the market. The Lake Superior mine at Ishpeming, employing 1,500 men, adopted the eight-hour system yesterday. Although the work of the miners will be cut down considerably, there will be no reduction in wages.

For Fourteen Years

SAGINAW, Mich., May 2.—For the past fourteen years Thomas Allen of this city has been searching for his long lost brother-in-law, Overton Tibbworth. When last heard from he was keeping a hotel near Grand Rapids. He hailed from Bristol, England, and is supposed to be somewhere in the northern part of Michigan. Mr. Allen is just as persistent in his search now as fourteen years ago.

Michigan Crop Report

WASHTON, May 2.—This is the third consecutive cold and unfavorable week throughout the principal wheat and corn producing states, according to the weather and crop report issued today. The conditions by states are as follows: For Michigan: Cold weather and excessive rain have retarded growth of crops, some spring seedling rotting. Fruit prospects continue good.

Ann Arbor's New Seminary

ANN ARBOR, Mich., May 2.—About twenty delegates, representing churches of Christ in Michigan, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and other states, met yesterday afternoon in executive session and effected an organization, preliminary to pushing the matter of establishing a biblical seminary in this city. J. S. Gray, Fred H. Owens and James Goulay represented Detroit.

Sitka Ashore

PORT HURON, Mich., May 2.—The steamer Sitka of Cleveland, bound down, laden with corn, went ashore this morning at 1 o'clock on Kelle Point, twenty miles from Port Huron, on the Canadian side. She is out two feet and leaking. The tug Wales will leave with complete wrecking outfit.

Another One Gone

LEWIS, Mich., May 2.—G. A. Goodenough, instructor in mechanics at the agricultural college, has accepted a position in the correspondent school of mechanics at Scranton, Pa., and will begin his duties June 1.

END OF HIS SPEECH

Carter Closes His Argument for the United States

IN THE BERING SEA SEAL CASE

He Insists That the Rights of the United States Shall Be Maintained

PANAMA, May 2.—The Bering sea tribunal of arbitration resumed its session today, Lord Hannon, the British arbitrator, who has been ill, being sufficiently recovered to be present. J. C. Carter, of counsel for the United States, maintained that the rights of the United States in Bering sea were absolute and unqualified. He argued over again that the government of the United States was justified in protecting its rights in those waters in time of peace as well as at any other time, and he claims that the United States had a right to seize vessels caught in pelagic sealing.

"Assuming," argued Mr. Carter, "that the rights of property of the United States were admitted as claimed, was the government of the United States to follow the vessels found engaged in pelagic sealing home, in order to claim redress for trespass against a municipal law?" This, he continued, would not only be ineffectual, but would not comport with the dignity of the United States. No nation ever designed to resort to another nation for the enforcement of its municipal laws.

Mr. Carter proceeded to agree on the subject of regulations, but was interrupted by Sir Charles Russell, of counsel for Great Britain, who said that Great Britain would not recede from the position that the question of rights should be argued apart from the question of regulations. Sir Charles Russell stated, that he could not agree to a statement of his views on the subject. An animated discussion followed, in which Baron de Courcel, president of the tribunal, American Arbitrator Harlan, British Arbitrator Lord Hannon, Sir Charles Russell, and the Hon. J. Phelps, took part.

It was finally decided that counsel for Great Britain should argue the question of rights and the question of regulations separately, but that the tribunal would not give separate decisions. Mr. Carter then proceeded with his argument.

We Are Ready to Fight

In his peroration Mr. Carter described the slaughter of female seals, heavy with their young, and other horrors of pelagic sealing. To prevent these horrors and to protect the seal herds, the United States had taken the position, which he claimed to be the best of his ability. The United States had taken this position at the risk of war with Great Britain and they had been ready to maintain this position, and thus discharge the duties to humanity, even if they had been obliged to face half the world in arms. History would recognize their rights and the justice of their cause. The duty of the United States had not been extinguished by reference of the dispute to the tribunal, but had been merely deferred. The United States had withdrawn and left to the arbitrators the sacred duty of forbidding pelagic sealing and confining seal killing to the islands. If the tribunal would decline to assume this duty, it would only leave for posterity a new source of contention. From beginning to end Mr. Carter had spoken forty hours.

ARMY BILL COMPROMISE

WILHELM WILL HAVE TO TAKE HALF A LEAF FOR ONCE.

BREITL, May 2.—The army bill compromise arranged between Chancellor Von Caprivi and President Von Huene, the clerical leader, contains these details: The peace effective shall be created by 50,000 men at once, and in the course of the next three years shall be raised gradually until 70,000 men, or practically the full number demanded. The bill will be introduced by the chancellor, shall have been added to the present standing army. The sixty new battalions of field artillery shall have four, instead of six guns each. By the concession thus indicated the expenditures contemplated by the army bill will be reduced 2,000,000 marks. Just what the result of the arrangement between him and President Von Huene will be is still in doubt. The government has not yet secured a majority and must depend upon concessions from the clericals and radicals.

Emperor William Has Telegraphed His Approval of the Compromise

The telegram was laid on the table in the Reichstag. The imperial party arrived at the Reichstag from Cologne this afternoon. The radicals are in a hot domestic quarrel over the bill. Last evening they had a caucus which from beginning to end was exceedingly stormy. Eugene Richter spoke vehemently against the bill either in its original or its amended form, but the caucus developed that he cannot control twenty or more deputies who are likely to support the compromise.

Then, with the score of clericals Von Huene is expected to secure, will supply the forty or forty five votes, the government needs to make a majority.

GUERRA IS HOPEFUL

He Thinks the Cuban Insurrection Will Be Successful.

NEW YORK, May 2.—Benjamin Guerra, the secretary of the United Cuban societies in this city, said today that he supported Saratoga, the present leader of the Cuban insurrection, according to the cable message received here, who was expected to surrender the command to a well known Cuban general, had been compelled to show his hand sooner than he anticipated. By reason of his plans becoming known to the Spanish authorities, Mr. Guerra thought that he had a large and well-armed force. The departure of the Spanish men-of-war from this port today indicated, he felt sure, that they had been ordered to Cuba on account of the revolution. Spain maintains a standing army of about 25,000 men in Cuba, according to Mr. Guerra's figures, while the present force opposed to them is said to be no larger than 4,000. The

HELD UP A TRAIN

Daring Robbery by the Infamous Starr Gang

FOILED BY THE MESSENGER

The Robbers Abandoned the Express Car and Looted Each Passenger of All His Valuable.

PANAMA, Kan., May 2.—The Missouri, Kansas & Texas passenger train No. 3, which left here at 1:30 p. m., was held up at Starr Creek, in the Indian Territory, at 8:30 tonight by six men armed with Winchester, supposed to be the notorious Harry Starr gang. The plucky express messenger refused to give up the combination, although a revolver was held at his head and a knife at his throat. Passengers, including President Martin of the Kansas City, Pittsburg & Gulf and a party on a tour of inspection, were robbed. Fifty-six passengers were relieved of everything, from pocket-books to pocket-knives. No clue to the robbers yet.

The hold-up took place at the Pryor Creek station. When the train stopped the robbers covered the engineer, fireman, conductor and train crew with Winchester and forced them to leave the train. They were marched off some distance and two men armed with Winchesters, supposed to be Harry Starr and his partner, were turned their attention to the express car.

A Brave Messenger.

Here they failed to secure anything, the messenger refusing to open his safe, although they had a Winchester at his head and a knife at his throat. Abandoning the express car, the robbers went through the passenger coaches. They stripped the express car of everything they had and secured a considerable amount of money and valuables, but just how much cannot now be learned. Great excitement prevailed on the train and several women fainted, but as far as can be learned no person was in any way injured. Before the train arrived the robbers had bound and gagged the station agent.

In the party of railroad officials on the train were E. L. Martin, A. J. Stillwell, Frank Adams, A. A. Mosher, Richard Smith, C. L. Milne, W. M. Blackwell, and C. M. Brown of Philadelphia; E. L. Barnes, W. F. Fields and Charles Kimbrey of New Haven, Connecticut, and J. Von Hull, Holland.

REGULAR WILD WEST.

One Desperado Killed and Another Killed the Marshal.

LITTLE ROCK, May 2.—Saturday night John Rose, a deputy United States marshal, attempted to arrest John Davis and Bill Binge, on a Missouri, Kansas & Texas train in the Indian territory near Fort Smith, for selling whisky. Binge jumped from the train and was killed. Davis was arrested and Rose got off with him at Illinois station. While waiting for a writ for Davis, Rose, Binge and Jack Starr arrived on the scene and rescued Davis. A fight ensued and the deputy marshal was fatally wounded.

Chicago's Surprise.

PITTSBURG, May 2.—Chicago took the lead in the third inning today on two bad errors by the home team and maintained it throughout the game. Attendance 1,800. The score:

HAVE A SPECIALTY.

What the Scientific American Says About Specialties and Specialties.

Life Too Short to Learn It All.

In a recent article, entitled "Have a Specialty," which has attracted the attention and admiration of vigorous thinkers, the Scientific American, a journal recognized as a leader wherever the English language is spoken, chimes with those accepted truths: "It does not take the world very long to discover who is the best man for this or that purpose, and when it finds out that man who has made a specialty of one thing, and unquestionably does it better than any one else, the world must avail itself of his labor."

"We do not mean to argue that a man should take one idea at a time, for that would be to advocate narrow-mindedness; but we mean to say that no man should be without one essential and prevailing object, in the prosecution of which he is determined to excel, and it does not make any difference what that is, whether cleaning a gutter or saving lives."

"All this aside weight to our first advice: to have a specialty and push it. Be sure you are right before you select it."

The above excellent advice is quoted here to emphasize Drs. Copeland and Graham's claim that the true specialist, one that selects a certain line of disease and makes their study and practice his life work, cannot help but become more proficient in their treatment than the general bedside practitioner. The field of medicine has become too extended for a man to hope to master it in all its details. Drs. Copeland and Graham's great success in the treatment of all diseases of the mucous membrane and their kindred affections is the result of years of special training and special application. The only objection that can be urged against this is that they advertise, but if they did not do so they could not hope to secure enough patients to justify them in treating these diseases for $5 a month, so the public is benefited by their advertising, and they realize it.

THE COPELAND MEDICAL PRACTICE IS ACKNOWLEDGED BY THE LANCET IN THE WORLD. IT IS FOUNDED ON HONESTY AND BUILT UP BY ABILITY, SKILL AND EXPERIENCE.

Our system of mail treatment by means of symptom blank and correspondence is as perfect and effective as our office work. The charge is the same—$5 a month, and we work in the morning that I could scarcely get up. When I went to Dr. Copeland and Graham I was completely exhausted in walking from the car to the door, only a few steps.

"After a thorough examination the doctor told me they could cure me, and I have, as a result of their treatment, been at work for several weeks and have not felt as well in twenty-five years. I sleep well and feel refreshed on rising. I have been free from headache and my stomach is as good as that for the first time in years. I am free from the bad taste in my mouth on rising in the morning. I feel that I cannot say too much in praise of the pleasant and efficient treatment I received at the hands of Drs. Copeland and Graham, as I realize that they have saved my life."

Result of Special Treatment.

Mr. E. A. English, Who Was All Run Down Physically, Dances and Has His Mad Conversation, Now He Is Able to Work Every Day.

Mr. E. English, residing at No. 428 Broadway, gives testimony that, remarkably as it may seem, is but an example of the kindly feelings of hundreds who have been treated and benefited at the Copeland Medical Institute. Mr. English is well known to all the residents of his vicinity, and his remarkable improvement has been the subject of comment with all of his acquaintances.

Mr. E. A. English, 428 Broadway, Mr. English says: "My wife has been trying to persuade me to go to Dr. Copeland and Graham ever since they were first mentioned to me. I was compelled to quit work. Physicians had pronounced my trouble consumption and incurable. I coughed and raised blood and mucus constantly, and sweat profusely every night. Sleep was impossible. I had pain in both lungs and breathing was difficult, and my lungs felt filled up. I was losing flesh rapidly; my appetite was gone, my food did me little good, and the headache all the time, a constant bad taste in my mouth, and no work in the morning that I could scarcely get up. When I went to Dr. Copeland and Graham I was completely exhausted in walking from the car to the door, only a few steps."
